The Tramshed, LONDON 2011

22-25 September   The Tramshed 32 Rivington Street London EC2A 3LX

Tramshed 2011 marks the second year of the Tramshed, a premier design event that made its debut at London Design Festival in 2010. Improving upon the successes of last year's event, Tramshed 2011 returns to its dynamic Shoreditch location with a diverse group of exhibitors known for their vibrancy and capacity to innovate.

Seeking to be a departure from conventional trade exhibitions, Tramshed 2011 will celebrate the diversity of the industry in the broadest sense. Exhibitors, seminars, talks, good food and music combine to create an engaging and influential destination.

listening to the light

Listening to the light is an interactive art installation by Leif.designpark and LS that will take place at the Tramshed 2011 during London Design Festival. The senses of sight and hearing can detect and discriminate almost 94 % of the signals and information coming from our environment. This installation aims to create new visualisations of sounds by fusing music and lighting.
